BLDG. OPERATIONS HERE DURING 1933 COST ABOUT $18,000

Alterations Exceeded New Structures in Estimated Value

ISSUE TWENTY PERMITS

Total Cost Estimated $6,000 More Than In 1932

Value of building operations in Bristol during 1933 exceeded the value of the building operations here in 1932 by about $6,000, according to figures available at the office of Building Inspector, John S. Roberts, Jr.

The estimated value of building operations in 1932 was approximately $12,000, while those of last year totaled $18,240.

Twenty permits were issued last year.

The value of alterations exceeded the value of new buildings by $3540. Total value of alteration is given as $10,740, while the value of new buildings is estimated at $7,200. Additions totaled $300.

Alterations now in course of completion at the Bristol Presbyterian church headed the list with the estimated cost given as $3,440, while the alterations at the property 219 Dorrance street owned by Louis Martino, cost $2000. The Martino alterations were made following a fire after which the property was converted from a club house into two apartments.

In the new buildings under construction the store building of Jacob Asta, Pond street and Lincoln avenue, is estimated at $2,000. This is the largest single new building operation during the year. Most of the other new building operations were garages.

Additions made to existing buildings cost, it is estimated about $300.

Clara Bow Comes Here Tonight, Friday, in "Hoopla"

Clara Bow, the ever-fertile, makes her latest screen appearance in "Hoopla," her second starring film to be released under the banner of Fox Film. The production is slated for a two-day engagement at the Grand Theatre beginning tonight.

In this story of carnival life that dramatizes the hatreds, the desires, the romance and the loves of the "big top," Clara Bow is said to reach the highest point of achievement in her colorful career. The role she plays is reported as so well suited to her capabilities, that it promises to be the most important portrayal she has ever undertaken.

In "Hoopla" Miss Bow depicts the part of a fiery carnival dancer, and the environment of the open-air show forms a kaleidoscopic background for her constantly-changing emotions and the fire of her personality.

The story is built around this young dancer who makes a wager that she can win the love of a certain young man. The young man happens to be the son of the carnival's chief Barker. He is a youth whose nature is far removed from the hectic surroundings of the carnival and he falls an easy prey to the well-polished wiles of the dazzling dancer. It is his sincerity and his naive manner, however, that work a change in the nature of the girl. For the first time in her life she is confronted with the real meaning of love.

The boy's father objects to the affair, and there follows a series of incidents in which these three attempt to straighten out their tangled lives. The climax is reported as one of the most ingenious of all the Clara Bow classics.

BUCKS COMMISSIONERS IN ADDITION TO REDUCING COUNTY TAX RATE WROTE ASSESSORS OF DISTRICTS SUGGESTING 10 P. C. REDUCTION OF ASSESSMENTS

Review of Events Happening During August Shows Many of Interest to People Here

Numerous events of interest occurred during August in Bucks County, according to a review of the files of the Courier for that month. These are here set forth:

1st—Two Bristol paddlers, Fletcher Holland and Albert Bauer, members of Bristol Y. M. A., were making preparations to take part in canoe championships at Chicago, the events to be held on the World's Fair lagoons.

Plans were announced for a strikers' camp to be pitched near the Blue Moon hosiery mill, Croydon, where the strikers planned to "camp outside the enemy's wall until he surrenders."

Sixteen children from this section and their tonsils removed at the annual tonsil clinic at Harriman Hospital. Local surgeons and nurses did the work.

I. B. Dill, of Perkasi, retired as treasurer of the Highland Park Camp Meeting Association, after serving in that capacity for 40 years.

Ten W. C. T. U. groups were represented at an institute held at Yardley.

2nd—Dr. Samuel Wilson Gehrett, retired member of the Philadelphia M. E. Conference, and at one time pastor of Bristol M. E. Church, left $1,000 to the Preachers' Aid Society of the Conference, according to terms of his will issued for probate.

The commissioners of Bucks County in addition to reducing the tax rate several months previous took further action to relieve the taxpayers, urging assessors to cut assessments 10 percent.

George W. Burgner, Democratic member of Morrisville Council, was named postmaster, succeeding Charles I. Heller, Republican.

3rd—Mildred Smith, 18, Neshaminy Falls, who had been missing from her home overnight, was found to be safe at the home of a friend, several miles away. The young woman stated that after being out so late in the evening she was afraid to return home, for fear of punishment, and walked to a friend's home for the night.

A man suspected of arson was being held in the county jail at Doylestown, for further investigation by authorities, who sought to question him regarding unusual fires in this section. The man gave the name of Joseph Zaksheski, aged 60.

Chief of police Albert Cooper and Squire Neal Nolan, Morrisville, had Gypsy couples hanging over their heads, after fining some members of that race for speeding.

4th—During a severe thunderstorm four pure-bred Holsteins in the herd of C. Ralph Powell, Bristol Township.

KIDNAP MOTORIST

Philadelphia, Jan. 11—Three armed thugs today ended a twilight-to-dawn series of crimes by kidnapping a motorist in his own automobile. The kidnap victim is Frank C. Cassidy, 28. After being held captive for three hours, Cassidy was robbed and thrown from his automobile which the gunmen used to make their escape. Earlier the bandits stole the car of Harold Axler, Lansdowne, and later used it to make a get-away after robbing a chain grocery store of $36.50.

NAVAL PLANES NEAR HONOLULU

Honolulu, Jan. 11—Five of the six naval seaplanes making a non-stop flight from San Francisco were reported passing over the naval patrol vessel Whippoorwill 900 miles east of Honolulu at 4:55 eastern standard time.

The seaplane 10-P5 was still out of formation and 13 minutes later her commander was heard reporting to Flight Commander McGinnis the plane had missed joining the formation at the Whippoorwill and would join the squadron at the U. S. S. Wright, 300 miles west of the Whippoorwill and 600 miles from Honolulu. The 10-P5, according to radio messages received at the Pearl Harbor Naval base here was 10 miles off her course. Naval authorities at Pearl Harbor were prepared to order emergency planes to sea if necessary.

Nine planes were ordered to stand-by this morning. Three planes, it was announced, were set to get under way upon receipt of orders from the Commander of the aircraft base force to assume positions 15 miles north of the Island of Molokai. These will act as official escorts to the trans-Pacific fliers. The other planes were to be used in search operations.

POOR DIRECTORS END YEAR WITH BALANCE

Thirty-Eight of 194 Inmates At Present Are Women

GROW OWN CROPS

Balancing the budget holds no fears for the Directors of the Poor of Bucks County. According to the annual report of the House of Employment for Bucks County, which will be filed in the Court of Quarter Sessions shortly, the Directors ended the year, 1933, with a balance of $7,451.67 on hand.

Receipts for the year totaled $65,021.78, and expenditures amounted to $56,570.11, according to Ira C. Shaw, secretary to the board. Directors include Mrs. Minerva F. Martin, W. W. Lindes and William P. Newbold, president.

Submitting his report Steward A. S. Kriebel stated that the annual sales of produce amounted to $4,474.93. Of the 194 inmates now living at the home, 38 are women. There are six children confined to the County Home temporarily.

An inventory of the produce revealed that during the past year the following crops were grown: hay, 90 tons; wheat, 1925 bushels; oats, 900 bushels; barley, 750 bushels; corn, 3000 bushels; sugar corn, 1100 ears; onions, 120 bushels; cabbage, 2500 heads; beans, 15 bushels; tomatoes, 80 baskets; beets, 20 baskets; potatoes, 500 bushels; apples, 140 bushels; strawberries, 700 quarts. Dairy and poultry products included milk, 61,100 quarts, and 1850 dozens of eggs.

Tabulating the live stock on the farms it was discovered there are 20 milk cows, 19 heifers, 2 bulls, 40 steers, 90 hogs, 359 chickens, 4 horses and 3 mules.

Monthly expenditures follow: January, $4686.40; February, $4964; March, $5272.54; April, $4308.22; May, $4457.48; June, $7836.57; July, $4605.60; August, $4407.15; September, $5058.50; October, $4485.66; November, $5123.43; December, $5355.46.

Steward and Mrs. A. S. Kriebel will be retained for next year.

WHAT THE POLICE DO

Efficiency in the Bristol police department is plainly shown by an analysis of the annual report submitted to the police committee of borough council by Linford J. Jones, chief of the department.

The value of the stolen property reported and which was recovered last year exceeded the amount recovered in 1932 by $252.50 and $223.45 worth more of property was reported stolen in 1933.

The number of arrests made in 1933 was only two less than the number made during the previous 12 months, yet eight more were held for court, showing that the police had good and sufficient grounds for making their arrests.

Out of a total of 188 arrested last year there were 59 discharged while in 1932, out of total arrests of 190, there were 82 discharged.

The number committed to the county prison in 1932 was 18, while the number committed last year is given as 24, again testifying to the fact that Chief Jones and his men evidently caught the proper persons.

Little thought is given to police work, as is the case in many other municipal activities, just so long as things go along smoothly.

Police come into the public mind only when sensational arrests are made and but little thought is given to the subject of police protection by the average resident of any community. But few ever think of the big part the daily and nightly routine of police work plays in keeping down crime. Chief Jones looks upon crime prevention as being one of the chief functions of police work, and so it is.

THE DAILY MIRACLE

Time is the most valuable of all human possessions. It outranks Love, for love is not permanent. It abides after friends are gone and wealth has vanished. Time is priceless because it is changeless. Of all other things one must say: This, too, shall pass away. Time is the only thing that never ceases to be.

The most precious thing in life is the 24 hours which are allotted to mankind each day. Time is the changeless possession. And the more time one has the wealthier one is. And in this, Youth is the wealthiest of all.

Time is the equal possession of mankind. Without time nothing is possible. With it, all things are. Rich man, poor man, beggar man and thief, all are equally blessed by the daily miracle.

Said Emerson: "Give me health, and a day, and I will make the poem of emperors ridiculous." Said Franklin, "If thou wouldst lay hold on life, save time for time is the stuff that life is made of."

Arnold Bennett, in his brochure "How to Live on 24 Hours Per Day," says: "You wake up in the morning and your purse is magically filled with 24 hours of the manufactured tissue of the universe of your life. Waste your infinitely precious commodity as much as you will, and the supply will never be withheld from you. You cannot draw on the future. It is impossible to get into debt. You can only waste the passing moment."

What a singularly inept race we are to have invented the phrase, "killing time"! After all, that is the real race suicide problem in a nutshell.

The only fellow who advertises too much is he with the aches and pains.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or crowing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See a druggist. ©1931 C.M. Co.

CHAPTER FIFTY

"What's the joke?" demanded Julian suspiciously.

"The joke is that she was at his house week-end before last."

"The devil she was! Well," said Julian, "I am surprised. I hardly expected such virtuosity from Marthe. I thought she was devoted to me." He laughed. "Are you sure, Patricia?"

"Phil Gove told me."

"Is that why you've been moping the last two days?"

"I haven't been moping! But Mar-Clark is at the ball," she proceeded carefully. "If he is there, I hope you don't expect me to cut him. I assure you that I won't."

"I expect nothing so silly," he retorted, thoroughly out of sorts now. "Behave as you choose. Fall into his arms if you like. I don't give a darn."

"You once did," she reminded him.

"Maybe so," he agreed, his voice suddenly savage, "but the cure you've put me through the last two months has been thoroughly effective. Make a fool of yourself in any fashion you like, Patricia. I wash my hands of your affairs of the heart."

"Isn't this just a little late, Julian?"

"Better late than never," he quoted sourly. Presently he said with real and bitter feeling, "I'm sick of having you treat me like a dog. I'm so sick of it that I'll admit I made a mistake. Now, are you satisfied?"

"Do you think I should be?" she asked, confused and bewildered at this unexpected turn of events. Julian's surrender had come far too late. That it had come at all was a miracle.

"I've said I was sorry. I've never said I was sorry before. Now can't you and I be friends again?"

"I guess so," she said listlessly.

Presently they turned through great iron gates, manned by guards in uniform, lit by shining lanterns. Cars lined the grounds, doors were banging, lights were flashing in the trees. Foreign women, laughing, lovely, striding along the garden paths with men in evening dress toward a flight of marble steps.

Patricia and Julian were swept inside. The girl left her wrap in a dressing room sweet with the scent of flowers and perfume, gleaming with powdered backs and splendid jewels. No woman there was more exquisite than herself. Outside she joined Julian, who waited in a ring of other impatient men. He took her arm. They worked their way to the ballroom, through a babble of chatter, stopping often to exchange greetings. Patricia smiled and acknowledged a thousand compliments.

At the doorway of the ballroom, bejeweled and smart, stood Martha March. Beside her, gazing with her, was Clark Tracy.

The color left Patricia's face, and, as she advanced, she was very pale and looked taller than usual—taller and more stately. The blue gown, the consciousness of it, made her hold her head high, so that the light caught the beautiful line of her throat and rippled in the waves of her hair. To the world she seemed as serene and as confident as an empress. Inwardly she was a frightened, trembling girl.

Clear-vision Ventilation also gives GREATER SAFETY because it has no exterior parts to obstruct view

Simple, easy, convenient. Just turn the window all the way up and give it an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to the ventilating position. Individual window control, front and rear.

A NEW system of ventilation to prevent drafts, with greater safety than old-fashioned types.

No exterior parts to obstruct vision. No fogging of windshield and windows. No "roar" of air. No splash from rain. Effective at all speeds and temperatures—winter and summer.

Here's another big advantage—You have no feeling of being "boxed in." You can open the windshield in the New Ford V-8 to get fresh air as needed. That means cooler driving than with ventilation systems that won't let you open the windshield.

FISH AND GAME ASS'N. NAMES NEW OFFICERS

The Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association at its regular meeting held Tuesday evening at Coleman's Cigar Store, elected the following officers to serve for the year of 1934: President, William Warner; vice-president, Frank Pfeiffer; secretary, Richard Winslow; treasurer, Ralph Ratcliffe; board of governors, George Bruden, Eugene Gerhart, A. G. Hibbs, Howard Black, and Edward Pickering, Jr.

The association passed a resolution to become a member of the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs of Bucks County. Thomas Scott, Ralph Ratcliffe and Richard Winslow, who had served as a special committee to investigate the advisability of joining the above association, were re-elected as a permanent committee to act as representatives to the Bucks County Federation.

The president appointed a committee of three to arrange for a showing of game pictures belonging to the Board of Game Commissioners, at the next meeting to be held April 10, 1934.

There were ten cans of catfish, five cans sunfish, and two cans of tadpoles distributed in the Mill Pond and Laurel Bend Creek; ten cans catfish, five cans sunfish and one can tadpoles in Maple Beach. The association authorized the Game Commission to purchase ringneck pheasants with the available money.

HIBERNIANS TO PLAY BURLINGTON FIVE HERE

The Hibernians, first half champions of the Bristol Basketball League, will meet the Endeavor Cardinals of Burlington, first half champions of the Burlington League, Sunday afternoon on the Italian Mutual Aid floor.

In the preliminary game, the Hibernian Reserves will play Beverly Road, also of Burlington.

FIRMAN A. C. OPENS CAGE SEASON HERE

The Firman A. C. opened up its Inter-Club Basketball season last night on the No. 4 Fire House floor. Four games were played. The first two games were between the Play Boys and the Hermits, the Play Boys winning the opening game by the score of 32-24.

In the second game the teams that played were the Saxons and the Gigolos, the Saxons winning this game by the score of 22-11.

The four clubs will meet next Wednesday night on the same floor, and will continue until the season is over, the winning team to receive a large trophy to be donated by the club.

HAWKS WITH LAWRENCE THOUGHT DANGEROUS

"Watch the Hawks!"

That is the cry of many of the followers of the Bristol Basketball League after reading that the management of the Birds had signed "Toby" Lawrence, former forward of the Y. M. A. and last year's scoring ace. The Hawks will begin their second half schedule tonight meeting the Hibernians.

With Lawrence and Dugan as forwards, Balmer center, and Frey and Cole guards, the Hawks look very much like contenders for the second half crown. During the first half the Hawks dropped their first two games and then secured the services of Balmer. The club went on a spree and won four straight wins before being stopped by the Knights of Columbus in the last fray of the season.

The Hawks test will come tonight when they face the Hibernians, first half champions. The Hibs are standing pat on the line-up that paved the way to the first half championship and to conquer the Dolanmen will be quite a feat for the Birds.

In the second match of the evening the Knights of Columbus will play the Odd Fellows. The Knights are also pat on their first half starting line-up but have made several changes in the players' roster. The Oddies have signed several new players who are bound to make their debut tonight.

Opening tap-off will take place at eight o'clock sharp.
